Internal Audit Approach

- This programme of internal audits, related to the Artificial Intelligence Management System (AIMS) is conducted by the Risk and Compliance Team, as distinct from internal audits conducted by the Internal Audit Department, that cover business risks for statutory reporting purposes.
- This internal audit programme is divided into three broad categories:
  - Internal Process Audits: audits performed of in-scope teams (i.e., teams that are touched by the product or technical journeys of an AI product or service offering). The audits cover the:
    - AI-relevant processes operated by each team.
    - AI-related controls relevant to each team, as set out in the <<reference>> ISO 42001 Controls Framework.
  - Mandatory Clauses and Control Sampling: a series of four audits completed throughout the year, set out as:
    - A single audit of the mandatory clauses 4-10 from ISO 42001.
    - Three audits covering a sample of AI-related controls, as set out in the <<reference>> ISO 42001 Controls Framework. These audits are intended to pick up changes of control allocations to individual teams, reflecting any organizational structure changes between the scheduled audits conducted for each team, as well as a greater frequency of coverage for higher risk controls.
  - External 3rd Party Audits: audit support activity for the annual external ISO 42001 surveillance or recertification audits.
